

RELEASE FOR GENERAL PRESS

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

For more information, contact:
Michael Camara
508 910 0002
mcamara@abcdisposal.com

THE CAMARA FAMILY EXPANDS MORE INTO RECYCLING IN SOUTHERN NEW ENGLAND

NEW BEDFORD, MA (12.1.2012) -- The Camara Family owners of ABC Disposal Service, Inc. (ABC) and New Bedford Waste Services, LLC (NBWS), located in New Bedford, MA, are pleased to announce they have acquired the Southeastern Massachusetts Paper & Cardboard Recycling Division of AW Martin, Inc., headquartered in New Bedford, MA. This acquisition, by New Bedford Waste Services, LLC (NBWS), a sister company of ABC, will allow the Camara family to expand in recycling and be able to offer more services to their customers.

NBWS also has a 1,500-ton-per-day Municipal Waste Transfer Station and Construction & Demolition Processing Facility in New Bedford, MA, an 890-ton-per-day Transfer Station in Rochester, MA and a 625-ton-per-day Transfer Station in Sandwich.

"Combining the added capability of this recycling operation and our transfer stations will allow New Bedford Waste Services to manage as many as 3,500 tons of materials each day," said President Michael Camara. "These facilities improve our ability to market a larger percentage of materials which can then be recycled and reused. We understand the global implications of waste recycling and our responsibility to protect the environment for future generations."

Being able to recycle curbside and commercial commodities along with processing and recycling Construction & Demolition debris will enhance the company's overall operations. NBWS is permitted to transfer Municipal Solid Waste for final disposal at various landfills and trash-to-energy plants. These additional services to the Southeastern Massachusetts communities have greatly benefited the residents and other companies in the surrounding area.

RELEASE FOR GENERAL PRESS

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

For more information, contact:
Michael Camara
508 910 0002
mcamara@abcdisposal.com

THE CAMARA FAMILY EXPANDS MORE INTO RECYCLING IN SOUTHERN NEW ENGLAND

NEW BEDFORD, MA (12.1.2012) -- The Camara Family owners of ABC Disposal Service, Inc. (ABC) and New Bedford Waste Services, LLC (NBWS), located in New Bedford, MA, are pleased to announce they have acquired the Southeastern Massachusetts Paper & Cardboard Recycling Division of AW Martin, Inc., headquartered in New Bedford, MA. This acquisition, by New Bedford Waste Services, LLC (NBWS), a sister company of ABC, will allow the Camara family to expand in recycling and be able to offer more services to their customers.

NBWS also has a 1,500-ton-per-day Municipal Waste Transfer Station and Construction & Demolition Processing Facility in New Bedford, MA, an 890-ton-per-day Transfer Station in Rochester, MA and a 625-ton-per-day Transfer Station in Sandwich.

"Combining the added capability of this recycling operation and our transfer stations will allow New Bedford Waste Services to manage as many as 3,500 tons of materials each day," said President Michael Camara. "These facilities improve our ability to market a larger percentage of materials which can then be recycled and reused. We understand the global implications of waste recycling and our responsibility to protect the environment for future generations."

Being able to recycle curbside and commercial commodities along with processing and recycling Construction & Demolition debris will enhance the company's overall operations. NBWS is permitted to transfer Municipal Solid Waste for final disposal at various landfills and trash-to-energy plants. These additional services to the Southeastern Massachusetts communities have greatly benefited the residents and other companies in the surrounding area.